

BEST COPY Available

Declass Review by NIMA/DOD

6/17/98

SECRET

Approved For Release 2001/03/23 : AD - 05694A000100010002

2520

AB

1-23-64

PROVISIONAL INTELLIGENCE MEMORANDUM

Photo Intel(2), once and the USSR

Review by NIMA/DOD

CP/I-28

11 November 1954

File Copy

Lf

DOC	29	REV'D BY	10/1/62	0006032
ORIG COMP				S
ORIG CLASS
JUST	22		20/12	AUTH HR 70-2

PROVISIONAL INTELLIGENCE
COMPARISON AND ANALYSIS

CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY
Office of Research and Reports

SECRET

Approved For Release 2001/03/23 : AD - 05694A000100010002

OP/T-38

[Project 70.147]

Photo Intelligence and the USSR

- I. Summary of the historical background to Soviet interests in and appreciation of photography as a source of intelligence data.
- II. Indications of the present status of Soviet aerial photographic reconnaissance equipment and techniques.
- III. Notes concerning other Soviet activities and interests in the general field of photographic intelligence.
- IV. Questions.

Bibliography:

1. Aerial Photo Reconnaissance Service, Yu. G. Makarov and N. P. Rozhestvin, Military Publishing House of the Ministry of the Armed Forces of the USSR, Moscow, 1947. Part 6 - Applications.
2. Elements of the Theory of Aerial Photography, G. A. Isterin, Publications of the Military Aviation Engineering Academy named for Prof. N. E. Zhukovskogo, Moscow, 1949.
3. Photogrammetric Apparatus and Instrumentation, F. V. Drobyshev, Publishing House of Geodetic and Cartographic Literature, Moscow, 1951, ATIC 56938-2.
4. Photography and Aerial Photography, V. Ya. Mikhaylov, Publishing House of Geodetic and Cartographic Literature, Moscow, 1952, 372 pp.
5. Russian Air Reconnaissance, January, 1945, B-2, ATIC 33065. Confidential

SECRET

- 25X1A
6. Soviet Long Range Photographic Cameras. June 11, 1952, B-3, CIA Report No. SO-DB-54092, AF-461798, ATIC-73928, SECRET.
  7. Examination of Soviet Gun Camera Captured in Korea. Daily brief by [REDACTED] January 16, 1951, A-1, CONFIDENTIAL.
  8. Stereophotogrammetry. A. A. Skiridov. Publishing House of Geodetic and Cartographic Literature, Moscow, 1951, ATIC-90683-A, AF-501679.
  9. The Status and Characteristics of Current Soviet Aerial Photographic Reconnaissance Equipment. ATIC Study No. 102-AE-54/1-34, Project No. 30068, 29 June 1954.
  10. Significant Aspects of Soviet Bloc Research in Reconnaissance Optics and Photography. CIA-OSI Research Project RU-482, due to be completed 1 March 1955.
  11. Three-Dimensional Photogrammetric Laboratory of Moscow State University. Soviet source. CIA-OCD Photographs Nos. 105297 and 105302, September 1953.
  12. Comment on Development of Aerial Cameras in the USSR. Excerpt, p. 3 SIRAB No. 200, 14 October 1954.
  13. Carl Zeiss, Jena, Order for Rare-Earth Optical Glass in France. CIA-OSI No. 54-18. Scientific Intelligence Digest, 27 August 1954.
  14. Principles of Photography and Aerial Photography. M. M. Tsygankov. Publishing House of Geodetic and Cartographic Literature, Moscow, 1952.
  15. High-Altitude Camera Developed by Soviets. Air Intelligence Digest, p. 3, Vol. 7 - No. 3, March 1954.
  16. Aeromethods. Their Scope and Prospects of Development. A. V. Gaverman. Bulletin of the Academy of Sciences of the USSR Geographical and Geophysical Series, pp. 183 thru 194. 1943 (ATIC 145862 F-TB-3217/V).
  17. Military Topography. Shebalin, Section Ten - Reading of Aerial Maps F-TS-7492.
  18. Review of Soviet Photogrammetric Procedures. CIA/KR-ER-4, Provisional Intelligence Report, May 1954.

~~SECRET~~

19. ~~Estimate of Soviet Technical Capabilities - Reconnaissance Operations.~~ Vol. I, C29279, pp. 214 - 218, 11 September 1951.

20. [REDACTED] 25X1C

21. ~~Development and Current State of Photogrammetry in the USSR.~~ L. Winiwierz, Geod-zja i Kartografia, (Polish periodical), Vol. II, No. 1, pp. 60-65. CIA-FDD Report U-46554 1 Sept. 1953.

22. ~~Air Reconnaissance - Its Purpose and Value.~~ Air Marshall Sir Thomas Elmhirst, Military Review, pp. 100-102, December 1952.

23. ~~Air Photography - A Means of Protection Against Surprises.~~ Hans Rues, Memorandum to Chief, Photographic Laboratory, Wright-Patterson AFB, TSEPF-9. 14 October 1947.

24. ~~The Influence of American Technical Literature on Soviet Technology.~~ Air Intelligence Branch AGS/Intelligence, Eq. USAFE, pp. 15-20.

25. ~~Reconnaissance Camera Installed in MIG-15.~~ Air Intelligence Digest, No. 26. April 1954.

26. [REDACTED]

27. ~~USSR - Stalinsk Housing Under Construction.~~ Nashi Dostizhenia, No. 7, page 53. Photo 2211.547 AF 1953.

28. ~~Bonus Bombers.~~ Air Intelligence Digest, pp. 10-13. May 1954.

29. [REDACTED]

30. ~~Soviet Activities.~~ FBI Current Intelligence Summary. 9 Dec. 1953.

31. [REDACTED]

25X1A

~~SECRET~~